

WANTED: Lacrosse Coach

Würzburg men's lacrosse team looking for dedicated coach

The Würzburg men's lacrosse team is looking for a new lacrosse coach. We are playing in the 1. Our team consists of 25 players who are eager to improve their skills. The Würzburg women's lacrosse team is also looking for a new coach! We decided, however, to publish separate ads as the two teams have different requirements their future coach should meet. Depending on your experience with lacrosse, it might be possible to coach both teams.

- Payment by agreement and according to expenditure

- Experience with lacrosse; ideally as a lacrosse coach
- Enthusiastic and motivated coach
- Ability to work with players with different skill levels and understanding of the game

About the Team

Our men's team is currently playing in the 1. Bundesliga Süd (one of the highest German lacrosse leagues). Rookies and new players usually come in via the university, resulting in a large range of lacrosse experience within the team. These rookies have their first contact with the sport of lacrosse, whereas some of our more experienced players have been playing for up to 6 years and more. This variety is mirrored by the average age of the team. Some players are as young as 19 and others are older than 30 years. This results in different players having different levels of experience and understanding of the game. A large part of the team consists of university students who, unfortunately, leave the team when they graduate. A large focus of our team is to quickly and successfully integrate new players into the team which is why we often have team events such as a hiking trip. In the last two seasons, we had to cope with many players' leaving and new players' arriving, leading to our having to play against descending to a lower league. Luckily, we managed to succeed both times. Our long-term goal is to participate in the play-offs.
